VOLUME 3 INDEX

NO. 1, SPRING 1992 1–108
NO. 2, SUMMER 1992 109–212
NO. 3, FALL 1992 213–318
NO. 4, WINTER 1992 319–404

A

"Abused Labor Pool: Workers of Mexican Origin in the U.S. Economy, An," 89–95
"Accelerated Training 1992: Buyer Beware," 183–186
Action research, 42–44
"Agreement Between Young Subordinates and Managers About Social and Personal Practices in the Workplace," 273–286
American Society for Training and Development (ASTD), 177–178
Articles: "Agreement Between Young Subordinates and Managers About Social and Personal Practices in the Workplace," 273–286; "A Case Study in Forecasting the Financial Benefits of Unstructured and Structured On-the-Job Training," 133–139; "A Comparison of Men and Women Managers' and Nonmanagers' Perceptions of Success," 73–84; "A Comparison of Self-Directed Learning Readiness in U.S. and Hong Kong Samples and the Implications for Job Performance," 261–271; "Development and Selection of Multinational Expatriates," 287–293; "The Effectiveness of Employee Assistance Program Supervisor Training: An Experimental Study," 345–356; "Effects of Optimistic Versus Realistic Previews of Training Programs on Self-Reported Transfer of Training," 373–384; "An Examination of Leadership Development in the Great Outdoors," 357–382; "Organizational Learning: A Review of the Literature with Implications for HRD Professionals," 29–49; "The Relationship of On-the-Job, Off-the-Job, and Refresher Training to Human Resource Outcomes and Variables," 157–174; "Self-Assessment and Rater-Assessment as a Dimension of Management Development," 141–155; "Training Directors' Perceptions About the Successful Implementation of Supervisory Training," 243–259; "A Unifying Definition for the Human Resource Development Profession," 175–182; "Validity in Organizational Research: A Heuristic Model," 51–71
Assessment. See Self-assessment

B

Beyond Race and Gender: Unleashing the Power of Your Total Work Force by Managing Diversity, reviewed, 401–404
Binkerhoff, R. O., "Managing the Total Quality of Training," 121–131
Bolman, L. G., "Leadership Lessons from Mikhail Gorbachev," 3–23
Bookter, A. I., review by, 106–108
Bridges: Skills for Managing a Diverse Workforce, reviewed, 97–108
Brooks, A. K., "Building Learning Organizations: The Individual-Culture Interaction," 323–335; "Final Word: Building an Ethos of Community," 341–344
Budgeting, capital, 209–210
"Building Learning Organizations: The Individual-Culture Interaction," 323–335

C

"Can You Have a High-Quality Training Session with an Imperfect Video?" 303–304
Cannie, J. K., Keeping Customers for Life, reviewed, 314–318
Capital budgeting paradigm, 209–210
Caplin, D., Keeping Customers for Life, reviewed, 314–318
Carnevale, A. P., Training in America: The Organization and Strategic Role of Training, reviewed, 314–318

"Case Study in Forecasting the Financial Benefits of Unstructured and Structured On-the-Job Training, A," 133–139
Chalofsky, N., "A Unifying Definition for the Human Resource Development Profession," 175–182
Change: emotional reaction to, 338, 340; and entrepreneurial management, 262; and leadership responsibilities, 339–340; situations requiring, 338; transformational, 337–338. See also Organizational transformation
Chusmir, L. H., "A Comparison of Men and Women Managers' and Non–managers' Perceptions of Success," 73–84
Clark, K. B., Dynamic Manufacturing: Creating the Learning Organization, reviewed, 208–212
Clark, R. C., Developing Technical Training, reviewed, 305–310
Cognitive apprenticeship, 241
Cohen, D. J., "The Relationship of On-the-Job, Off-the-Job, and Refresher Training to Human Resource Outcomes and Variables," 157–174
Colan, N. B., "The Effectiveness of Employee Assistance Program Supervisor Training: An Experimental Study," 345–356
Columbaro, N. L., review by, 398–401
Commitment: moral, 194–195; and organizational culture, 191–195; and socialization, 193, 194; and value congruency, 192–193
Communication: male/female patterns, 398–400; organizational, 59–60. See also Feedback
Community building: and individualism ethos, 343; phases, 339
"Comparison of Men and Women Managers' and Nonmanagers' Perceptions of Success, A," 73–84
"Comparison of Self-Directed Learning Readiness in U.S. and Hong Kong Samples and the Implications for Job Performance, A," 261–271
Competition, 208–209, 342. See also Individualism ethos
Computer training, 308. See also Technical training
Computer Training Handbook, The, reviewed, 205–207
Computers: and bureaucracy, 7; and creativity, 226, 236, 237; and information distribution, 38; training, 205–207. See also Technology
Construct: organizational learning, 31–32; usefulness, 56–57; validation, 54, 57, 60–69; validity, 53–54
Corporate creativity: and culture, 214; and education/training functions, 226–228; and HRD, 226–228; and HRD policy, 231–233; vs. individual creativity, 216–218, 231; and information flow, 228–230; and information sources, 226; and on-the-job training (OJT), 230; stimuli, 230–231; study, 218–233. See also Creativity
Corporate culture. See Culture
Corporations: information flow, 228–230; international collaboration, 216. See also Organizations
Creativity: and cognitive apprenticeship, 241; and cognitive processes, 242; corporate vs. individual, 216–218, 231, 240; definitions, 215–217; and hidden information, 235, 237; in Japan vs. U.S., 236–238; research, 241–242; and study leaves, 222–224, 235–236; training, 240–241; and value systems, 241; Western/Eastern historical origins, 236
Critical value adders (CVAs), 125–126, 129–131
Culture: and commitment, 191–195; and ideology and climate, 191, 193–195; and organizational reality, 191; as socialization, 191; and transformational learning, 333–334; and value paradigm, 195
Customers, quality service strategy, 314–318

D

Deal, T. E., "Leadership Lessons from Mikhail Gorbachev," 3–23
Developing Technical Training, reviewed, 305–310
"Development and Selection of Multinational Expatriates," 287–293
Diversity: and aptitude, 320; managing, 401–404; and performance, 319–320; work force, 319–320, 389–390, 401–404

Dixon, N. M., "Organizational Learning: A Review of the Literature with Implications for HRD Professionals," 29–49
Dynamic Manufacturing: Creating the Learning Organization, reviewed, 208–212

E

Editorial: "Lost Culture, Lost Expertise," 1–2; "Pick a System, Any System," 213–214; "Quality and Morality: The Secret to Life," 109–111; "Valuing Diversity Without Performance Is a Ticket to Mediocrity," 319–321
Education: and cognitive apprenticeship, 241; and creativity, 222–224, 235–236; health and safety, 395–397; and human resource outcomes (study), 163–172; and illiteracy, 391–392; and organizational transformation, 326–327; and students' perspectives (study), 299–301; and training, 158, 163. See also Learning
Effectiveness: criterion measures, 312; employee assistance program supervisor (study), 345–355; of training, 381
"Effectiveness of Employee Assistance Program Supervisor Training: An Experimental Study, The," 345–356
"Effects of Optimistic Versus Realistic Previews of Training Programs on Self-Reported Transfer of Training," 373–384
Employee assistance programs (EAPs) supervisory training (study), 346–355
Employees: attitudes, 313; equitable treatment, 161; high school (study), 275–285; job satisfaction, 159, 161, 162, 170,172; motivation, 73–74, 332–333, 374–375; responsibility, 262; selection, 312; self-esteem, 381; turnover, 161, 162; values, 81–83. See also Mexican workers; Workers
"Examination of Leadership Development in the Great Outdoors, An," 357–382
Experience-based training and development (EBTD): and leadership skills, 371–372; outdoor (study), 357–372; and reflection, 372

F

Fear, of change, 338, 340, 342–343
Feature: "Building Learning Organizations: The Individual-Culture Interaction," 323–335; "Final Word: Building an Ethos of Community," 341–344; "Human Resource Development Already Embraces Total Quality Management—Or Does It?" 113–119; "Invited Reaction: 'Hidden' Information in Corporate Creativity in Japan," 235–238; "Invited Reaction: HRD and Corporate Creativity—Reactions from Practitioners," 239–242; "Invited Reaction: On the Conscious Creation of Community," 337–340; "Invited Reaction: Searching for Opportunities," 25–28; "Leadership Lessons from Mikhail Gorbachev," 3–23; "Managing the Total Quality of Training," 121–131; "The Relationship Between Human Resource Development and Corporate Creativity," 215–234
Feedback, managerial, 329–330. See also Communication
"Final Word: Building an Ethos of Community," 341–344
Financial forecasting, 134–135
Forum: "An Abused Labor Pool: Workers of Mexican Origin in the U.S. Economy," 89–95; "Accelerated Training 1992: Buyer Beware," 183–186; "Can You Have a High-Quality Training Session with an Imperfect Video?" 303–304; "Gorbachev: An Anatomy of Leadership, Superleadership, or Nonleadership?" 187–190; "Human Resource Development and Total Quality Management: A Rejoinder (HRDQ 3:2)," 295–297; "Illiteracy: An Economic and Human Tragedy," 389–392; "Leadership Challenges for the Former Soviet Union: A Rejoinder (HRDQ 3:1)," 385–388; "The Multiple Forms of On-Site Training: A Rejoinder," 85–87; "Organizational Culture and Commitment," 191–196; "Social Patterns in Training Programs," 299–301; "Trends in Training and Development in Dutch Business and Industry," 197–199
Franchère, G. S., review by, 208–212

G

Gainer, L. J., Training in America: The Organization and Strategic Role of Training, reviewed, 314–318
Gays, and job training, 104–106
Gender: and communication, 398–400; issue research, 74–75; and success (study), 75–83; and transformational learning, 331–333; and work force issues, 401–404. See also Men; Women
Gill, S. J., "Managing the Total Quality of Training," 121–131
Goldstein, J., Bridges: Skills for Managing a Diverse Workforce, reviewed, 97–108
Gorbachev, M.: as Act III leader, 5, 387; as advocate, 10–14; as architect, 6–8; as catalyst, 8–10; and glasnost, 8–9, 15–16; and Gosagroprom and Gospriyemka, 7–8; leadership lessons, 17–21; and perestroika, 4, 8, 13, 15–16, 26; as prophet, 14–16
"Gorbachev: An Anatomy of Leadership, Superleadership, or Nonleadership?" 187–190
Gowie, C. J., "Leadership Challenges for the Former Soviet Union: A Rejoinder (HRDQ 3:1)," 385–388
Guglielmino, P. J., "A Comparison of Self-Directed Learning Readiness in U.S. and Hong Kong Samples and the Implications for Job Performance," 261–271

H

Haslberger, A., "Development and Selection of Multinational Expatriates," 287–293
Hayes, R. H., Dynamic Manufacturing: Creating the Learning Organization, reviewed, 208–212
Health, occupational, 393–397
Human resource decision making, 312
Human resource development (HRD): and corporate creativity, 226–233; defined, 176–179; and employee values, 81–83; interdisciplinary nature, 175–176; leadership, 8–10; philosophy/mission, 180; professional core, 180–181; professional status/growth, 176; roles/competencies, 181; and self-development, 230–231; theory/concepts, 181; unifying definition, 179–180
"Human Resource Development Already Embraces Total Quality Management—Or Does It?" 113–119
"Human Resource Development and Total Quality Management: A Rejoinder (HRDQ 3:2)," 295–297
Human resource management: critique, 202–203; defined, 202; research, 311–313; and strategic planning, 203–204
Human resource professionals: boundary-spanning role, 39; gender-related values, 81–83; and meaning making, 42; and organizational learning, 30, 35, 42, 45–47; as research investigators, 52; and strategic decision making, 35; and total quality management, 118–119

I

"Illiteracy: An Economic and Human Tragedy," 389–392
Individualism ethos, 343. See also Competition
Information: acquisition, 33–35; and computer data bases, 226, 236, 237; distribution/interpretation, 35–39; equivocality, 37; flow, 228–230; hidden, 235, 237; and meaning making, 39–43; as messages, 36–37; and organizational environment, 34; raw vs. processed, 228–229; retrieval, 45–47; sources, 226; and strategic decision making, 35; and technology, 38
Interactive Human Resource Management and Strategic Planning, reviewed, 201–204
"Invited Reaction: 'Hidden' Information in Corporate Creativity in Japan," 235–238
"Invited Reaction: HRD and Corporate Creativity—Reactions from Practitioners," 239–242 "Invited Reaction: On the Conscious Creation of Community," 337–340
"Invited Reaction: Searching for Opportunities," 25–28

J

Jacobs, R. L., "A Case Study in Forecasting the Financial Benefits of Unstructured and Structured On-the-Job Training," 133–139; "The Multiple Forms of On-Site Training: A Rejoinder," 85–87
Japan: corporate creativity (study), 216–233; and learning/thinking, 236–237
Jewish-Americans, and job training, 101–103
Job performance: and valuing diversity movement, 319–320; manager/employee perception, 274; and self-directed learning, 261–262, 270
Job satisfaction: and employee behavior, 159; and off-the-job training, 162, 166, 170, 172; and on-the-job-training, 161, 166; and refresher training, 162, 172
Johnson, S. D., "Invited Reaction: HRD and Corporate Creativity—Reactions from Practitioners," 239–242
Johnston, A., review by, 305–310
Jones, M. J., "A Case Study in Forecasting the Financial Benefits of Unstructured and Structured On-the-Job Training," 133–139

K

Kaman, V. S., review by, 201–204
Karl, K. A., "Effects of Optimistic Versus Realistic Previews of Training Programs on Self-Reported Transfer of Training," 373–384
Kavanaugh, P., "An Abused Labor Pool: Workers of Mexican Origin in the U.S. Economy," 89–95
Keeping Customers for Life, reviewed, 314–318
Klimoski, R. J., Research Methods in Human Resources Management, reviewed, 310–313
Kouzes, J. M., "Invited Reaction: Searching for Opportunities," 25–28
Kovach, K. A., "The Relationship of On-the-Job, Off-the-Job, and Refresher Training to Human Resource Outcomes and Variables," 157–174
Kukuk, B. A., review by, 104–106

L

Lang, D. L., "Organizational Culture and Commitment," 191–196
Leadership: Act I, Act II, Act III, 5; and authority, 339–340; best experiences, 27–28; etymology, 27; flexibility, 26; in former Soviet republics, 5–21, 385–388; Gorbachev lessons on, 17–21; heroic myth of, 187–189; human resource, 8–10; and outdoor experience-based training and development (study), 357–372; political, 10–14; reframing, 5–16; structural, 6–8; super, 189–190; as surfing, 4–5, 26–27, 385–386; symbolic, 14–16
"Leadership Challenges for the Former Soviet Union: A Rejoinder (HRDQ 3:1)," 385–388
"Leadership Lessons from Mikhail Gorbachev," 3–23
Learning: and critical value adders, 129–131; and employee responsibility, 262; Japanese, 236–237; organizational emphasis, 29–30; programmed vs. questioning, 324; single- and double-loop, 323–324, 334, 341; spiritual/moral dimension, 334; as strategic resource, 391–392; technical types, 306–307; and total quality managed training, 129–131, 296; and training, 124; workplace, 176. See also Education; Illiteracy; Organizational learning; Self-directed learning; Transformational learning
Learning organizations: and control, 342; defined, 323; literature, 323–324; and organizational consciousness, 340; and societal dysfunction, 339; study, 324–334. See also Organizational learning
Lebby, A. M., "Invited Reaction: On the Conscious Creation of Community," 337–340
Lengnick-Hall, C. A., Interactive Human Resource Management and Strategic Planning, reviewed, 201–204
Lengnick-Hall, M. L., Interactive Human Resource Management and Strategic Planning, reviewed, 201–204
Leopold, M., Bridges: Skills for Managing a Diverse Workforce, reviewed, 97–108

Levine, T. M., review by, 101–104
Levy, B. S., Preventing Occupational Disease and Injury, reviewed, 393–397
"Lost Culture, Lost Expertise," 1–2

M

McKay, D. A., "Validity in Organizational Research: A Heuristic Model," 51–71
Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award, 121
Management: development and OJT, 160; diversity, 401–404; manufacturing, 210
Managers: behavioral change, 151; and change, 338; and community building, 339; entrepreneurial, 262; expatriate (study), 287–292; and high school employees (study), 275–285; and policy making, 330–331; and questioning/feedback, 328–330; and supervisory training, 245–246; training, 246; and transformational learning, 327–331; values, 81–83; varied work experiences, 328. See also Multinational expatriates
"Managing the Total Quality of Training," 121–131
Manufacturing: decline of American, 208–209; management, 210; and modern capital budgeting, 209–210; product- vs. process-focused, 211. See also Business
Manz, C. C., "Gorbachev: An Anatomy of Leadership, Superleadership, or Nonleadership?" 187–190
Markward, M. J., "Agreement Between Young Subordinates and Managers About Social and Personal Practices in the Workplace," 273–286
Masie, E., The Computer Training Handbook, reviewed, 205–207
Meaning: and interpretive perspective, 42–43; and organizational learning, 39–43; and organizational research, 58–60; and systems-structural perspective, 39–42
Men: communication patterns of, 398–400; and job training, 97–101; and success (study), 75–83. See also Gender
Mexican workers: background, 89–90; and border industrialization program, 91–92; future goals, 93–94; mistreatment, 89–91; and U.S. Free Trade Agreement, 92–93. See also Employees
Mink, O., "Validity in Organizational Research: A Heuristic Model," 51–71
Motivation: and action, 332–333; in former Soviet Union, 385; and realistic job preview, 374–375; and rewards, 73–74
Mulder, M., "Trends in Training and Development in Dutch Business and Industry," 197–199
Multinational expatriates: development, 288–289; family, 291; selection, 289–291; study, 287–292
"Multiple Forms of On-Site Training: A Rejoinder, The," 85–87

N

National Institute of Drug Abuse supervisory training study, 346–355
Neil, S., "A Case Study in Forecasting the Financial Benefits of Unstructured and Structured On-the-Job Training," 133–139
Nowack, K. M., "Self-Assessment and Rater-Assessment as a Dimension of Management Development," 141–155

O

Off-the-job training (OFJT): advantages, 161–162; defined, 157–158; and education/training functions, 226–227; and human resource outcomes (study), 163–172; and job satisfaction, 162, 166, 170, 172; and pay/promotion, 162; vs. refresher training, 162–163; and trainer competence, 161. See also Training
On-site training, 85–86
On-the-job training (OJT): costs, 160; and creativity, 230, 240–241; defined, 160; and education/training functions, 226–227; and human resource outcomes (study), 163–172; and information flow, 229–230; and job satisfaction, 161, 166; and management development, 160; and on-site training, 85–86; and seniority, 161; unstructured/structured (case study), 135–139; unstructured/structured, defined, 133. See also Training

Optimistic job previews, 375, 380–381
Organizational behavior theory, and motivation, 73–74
Organizational culture. See Culture
"Organizational Culture and Commitment," 191–196
Organizational development (OD), 51–52
Organizational learning: as construct, 31–32; and critical reflection, 42, 44; experiential, 41; and individual learning, 31; and information acquisition, 33–35; and information distribution/interpretation, 35–39; and information retrieval, 45–47; interpretive perspective, 37–39, 42–43; and meaning making, 39–43; modes, 37–38; and organizational memory, 43–46; research review, 32–47; single- and double-loop, 42–43; and strategic decision making, 35; systems-structural perspective, 36–37, 39–42; See also Learning organizations
"Organizational Learning: A Review of the Literature with Implications for HRD Professionals," 29–49
Organizational research: and construct validation, 53–54; and HRD investigative context, 55–57; and HRD/OD professionals, 52; and meaning, 58–60; measurement strategies, 51–70; and organizational learning, 32–47; and organizational paradigm, 69–70; theoretical context, 55; validation, 55–57
Organizational transformation: and academia, 343; and learning (study), 324–334; literature, 324. See also Change
Organizations: action theories, 42–43; communication, 58–59; and dysfunctional behavior, 342–343; and environment, 34, 43; experiential learning, 41; experimenting, 37; extended bureaucratic, 38; heuristic validation model, 60–69; information processes, 33–39; memory, 43–46; paradigm, 69–70; self-designing, 37; traditional bureaucratic, 38. See also Learning organizations; Organizational transformation
Outward Bound leadership development study, 357–372
Oyler, W. W., review by, 97–101

P

Parker, B., "A Comparison of Men and Women Managers' and Nonmanagers' Perceptions of Success," 73–84
Passmore, D. L., review by, 393–397
Performance. See Job performance
"Pick a System, Any System," 213–214
Plan-Do-Check-Act model, 116
Pretraining: realistic job preview (study), 373–383; and self-esteem, 381; strategies, 374; and training effectiveness, 381
Preventing Occupational Disease and Injury, reviewed, 393–397
Psychological theory, and total quality management, 117–118

Q

Quality: and Baldrige award, 121; definitions, 122–123; dynamic vs. static, 110–111; metaphysics of, 109; and morality, 109–110. See also Total quality management (TQM)
"Quality and Morality: The Secret to Life," 109–111
Quality improvement: and employee skills, 390; and human resource development, 390–391; and valuing diversity movement, 320
Quality training, 396
Quast, L. N., Jr., review by, 310–313

R

Race: and job training, 106–108; and transformational learning, 331–333; and work force issues, 401–404
Rating systems. See Self-assessment
Realistic job previews: and employee motivation, 374–375; literature, 374; and optimistic job previews, 375, 380–381; pretraining (study), 373–383
Refresher training: and human resource outcomes (study), 163–172; and job

Refresher training (continued)
complexity, 162; and job satisfaction, 162, 172; vs. off-the-job training, 162–163. See also Training
Reid, D., "Human Resource Development and Total Quality Management: A Rejoinder (HRDQ 3:2)," 295–297
"Relationship Between Human Resource Development and Corporate Creativity, The," 215–234
"Relationship of On-the-Job, Off-the-Job, and Refresher Training to Human Resource Outcomes and Variables, The," 157–174
Research and development (R&D), and creativity (study), 218–233
Research Methods in Human Resources Management, reviewed, 310–313
Research validation: confusion vs. clarity, 64; and construct validation models, 65–68; errors, 64–69; heuristic model/principles, 60–64; HRD investigative context, 55–57; inappropriate, 68–69; and terminology errors, 64–65; theoretical context, 55
Retish, P., "An Abused Labor Pool: Workers of Mexican Origin in the U.S. Economy," 89–95
Reviews: Beyond Race and Gender: Unleashing the Power of Your Total Work Force by Managing Diversity, 401–404; Bridges: Skills for Managing a Diverse Workforce, 97–108; The Computer Training Handbook, 205–207; Developing Technical Training, 305–310; Dynamic Manufacturing: Creating the Learning Organization, 208–212; Interactive Human Resource Management and Strategic Planning, 201–204; Keeping Customers for Life, 314–318; Preventing Occupational Disease and Injury, 393–397; Research Methods in Human Resources Management, 310–313; Training in America: The Organization and Strategic Role of Training, 314–318; You Just Don't Understand: Women and Men in Conversation, 398–401
Roberts, D. G., "A Comparison of Self-Directed Learning Readiness in U.S. and Hong Kong Samples and the Implications for Job Performance," 261–271
Rosenberg, S., "Illiteracy: An Economic and Human Tragedy," 389–392

S

Safety training, 395–397
Sanders, V., "Can You Have a High-Quality Training Session with an Imperfect Video?" 303–304
Schmitt, N. W., Research Methods in Human Resources Management, reviewed, 310–313
Schneider, R. J., "The Effectiveness of Employee Assistance Program Supervisor Training: An Experimental Study," 345–356
Self-assessment: accuracy guidelines, 152; literature, 141–144; managers, 151; positive, 143; vs. rater-assessment (study), 144–153; validity, 143–144
"Self-Assessment and Rater-Assessment as a Dimension of Management Development," 141–155
Self-directed learning: cultural factors, 270; and entrepreneurial individuals, 262–263, 270; readiness in U.S. and Hong Kong (study), 263–270
Sellers, K. S., review by, 401–404
Smith, M. A., "Social Patterns in Training Programs," 299–301
"Social Patterns in Training Programs," 299–301
Soviet republics (former USSR): changes, 3–4; entrepreneurialism, 386; and glasnost, 8–9, 15–16; and Gorbachev, 5–16, 387; lack of individual initiative, 385; and leadership as surfing, 385–386; leadership needs, 385–388; perestroika, 4, 8, 13, 15–16, 26; structural problems, 6–7
Statistical theory, and total quality management, 117
Stern, S., "The Relationship Between Human Resource Development and Corporate Creativity in Japan," 215–234
Stoltz, P. G., "An Examination of Leadership Development in the Great Outdoors," 357–382
Strategic decision making, and human resource management, 35, 204

Strategic human resource management (SHRM), 201
Strategic planning, 203–204
Stroh, L. K., "Development and Selection of Multinational Expatriates," 287–293
Success, and gender-related perceptions (study), 75–83
Superleadership, 189–190
Supervisory training: effectiveness, 243; employee assistance program (study), 346–355; implementation, 244–248, 250; limitations, 255–256; management support, 245–246, 254; manager involvement in, 246, 254; needs analysis, 245, 254–255; and perceived need, 246, 253–254; and performance appraisal, 247–248; practitioner-oriented literature, 244–245; research, 257; scheduling and follow-up, 247; successful, 250–253; and training directors (study), 248–257; vendor packages, 244; voluntary attendance, 246–247, 255
Swanson, B. L., "Human Resource Development Already Embraces Total Quality Management—Or Does It?" 113–119
Swanson, R. A., "Lost Culture, Lost Expertise," 1–2; "Pick a System, Any System," 213–214; "Quality and Morality: The Secret to Life," 109–111; "Valuing Diversity Without Performance Is a Ticket to Mediocrity," 319–321
Systems theory: and total quality management, 116–117; and training, 124

T

Talarico, M. S., review by, 314–318
Tannen, D., You Just Don't Understand: Women and Men in Conversation, reviewed, 398–401
Taylor, P., "Training Directors' Perceptions About the Successful Implementation of Supervisory Training," 243–259
Technical training: learning content types, 306–307; methods, 306–307; and technology, 305–306; and trainers, 305, 308–309; and training transfer, 309
Technology: and training, 305–306. See also Computers; Technical training
Thomas, R. R., Jr., Beyond Race and Gender: Unleashing the Power of Your Total Work Force by Managing Diversity, reviewed, 401–404
Torraco, R. J., "Accelerated Training 1992: Buyer Beware," 183–186
Torrance, E. P., "Invited Reaction: 'Hidden' Information in Corporate Creativity in Japan," 235–238
Total quality managed training (TQMT): activities, 130–131; and critical value adders, 129–131; defined, 121, 123–124; goal, 126–128, 296; and learning, 129, 296; subprocesses, 126–127; and total quality management movement, 122–126; training plan/strategy formulation, 128–129. See also Training
Total quality management (TQM): and critical value-adding process, 124–126; and HRD professionals, 118–119, 295–296; premises, 113–115; and psychological theory, 117–118; and statistical theory, 117; and systems theory, 116–117; theoretical basis, 115–118; and training, 122–126, 296. See also Quality; Total quality managed training (TQMT)
Training: Accelerated Training 1992, 183–186; American, 314–318; computer, 205–207; costs, 373; and creativity, 216–218, 240–241; and critical value-adding process, 124–126; and customer demand, 317–318; and customer focus, 316–317; director and supervisor training (study), 248–257; and education, 158, 163; evaluation, 158; industrial vs. service model, 315–316; and job satisfaction, 159, 161, 162, 171; and learning, 124; managers, 246; methodologies and human resource outcomes (study), 163–172; Mexican worker, 94; multicultural perspective, 97–108; in Netherlands, 197–198; on-site vs. on-the-job, 85–86; and organizational outcomes, 159–160; organization/strategic role, 316; and performance, 159; quality, 396; refresher, 158, 162–163; safety,

Training (continued)
395–397; service model, 315; and social patterns (study), 299–301; systems view, 124; and training transfer (study), 373–383; transfer, 309; videotape, 303–304. See also Experience-based training and development (EBTD); Off-the-job training (OFJT); On-the-job-training (OJT); Refresher training; Supervisory training; Technical training
Training and development (T&D). See Training
"Training Directors' Perceptions About the Successful Implementation of Supervisory Training," 243–259
Training in America: The Organization and Strategic Role of Training, reviewed, 314–318
Training transfer: strategies, 373–374; and training previews (study), 373–383
Transformational learning: and action, 332–333; and artist ideal, 333–334; and culture, 333–334; and developmental shift, 331–332; and formal educational experiences, 326–327; and gender/race issues, 331–333; and life experiences, 326; literature, 324, 341 manager-facilitated, 327–331
"Trends in Training and Development in Dutch Business and Industry," 197–199

U

Ungsrithong, D., "Effects of Optimistic Versus Realistic Previews of Training Programs on Self-Reported Transfer of Training," 373–384
"Unifying Definition for the Human Resource Development Profession, A," 175–182
Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (USSR). See Soviet republics (former USSR)

V

"Validity in Organizational Research: A Heuristic Model," 51–71
"Valuing Diversity Without Performance Is a Ticket to Mediocrity," 319–321
Videotape training, 303–304
Villet, J., Training in America: The Organization and Strategic Role of Training, reviewed, 314–318

W

Wagner, G. R., Preventing Occupational Disease and Injury, reviewed, 393–397
Weeks, J. L., Preventing Occupational Disease and Injury, reviewed, 393–397
Wheelwright, S. C., Dynamic Manufacturing: Creating the Learning Organization, reviewed, 208–212
Wolman, R., The Computer Training Handbook, reviewed, 205–207
Women: communication patterns of, 398–400; managerial/nonmanagerial values of, 82; and success (study), 75–83. See also Gender
Work force: competence, 390; diversity, 319–320, 389–390, 401–404; education, 390–391
Workplace practices and manager/employee agreement on (study), 275–285

Y

You Just Don't Understand: Women and Men in Conversation, reviewed, 398–401